Hello Doug and Randy,

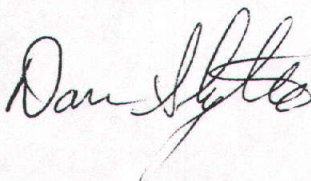

I changed sprinkler heads from line #5 to line #1. Heap effluent was measured at 12.0 gpm. There was considerable snow on top of Square- Top. Moisture on pad #1 went down below 18 inches. In St. George we have received more than an inch of rain this week. It appeared the mine has received more than town, although the roads were in good shape.

One lone cow was grazing down by the lower gate, but I didn't see any sign of activity around the old process area.

Someone did take the water trough that was on the sed dam (they forgot the bentonite). I had to flush the sprinkler lines as the increased flow brought some trash down the pipeline. I also used an easy out to extract some broken nipples out of the main line tees that the cows broke off.

The fence was still in good shape. That's all for this month.
